This is the developmental branch of Scribus - the open source desktop page layout program. This package is intended for tracking fast-paced development of scribus to make new features available to those who need them. Do not use this package if stability is your main requirement or if you intend to return to the stable 1.3.3.x "scribus" package at some point as the file formats are incompatible. This package is only for people who need the cutting edge features and can handle crashes and data loss and submit bug reports.

Scribus is an open source desktop page layout program with the aim of
